RUMOR: There's been some talk that the National Guard is on its way to shut the island down.

FACT: There are no plans at this time to do so; however, the governor has said repeatedly he will take stronger action statewide if people do not follow the guidance and orders.

The City of Galveston has no plans to invoke further quarantining at this time, but along with the governor may do so at some point in the future should cooperation with current orders and guidelines be deemed ineffective or unfollowed.
